

Re: 0x80072EE7 error

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windowsupdate/2007-12/msg01199.html>

- From: rspiros@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx
 - Date: Thu, 20 Dec 2007 15:18:29 -0800 (PST)
-

On Dec 19, 9:21 pm, michgal2k <michga...@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Gent – try this download fixwareout –<http://www.bleepingcomputer.com/files/lonny/Fixwareout.exe>
Note: You will need to run this tool while having an Internet Connection.
The tool will download other files while running.
Save it to your desktop and run it. Click Next, then Install, make sure "Run fixit" is checked and click Finish.
The fix will begin; follow the prompts.
If your firewall gives an alert, (because this tool will download an additional files from the internet), please don't let your firewall block it, but allow it instead.
You will be asked to reboot your computer; please do so. Your system may take longer than usual to load; this is normal.
Once the desktop loads a text file will open (report.txt).

After that try the microsoft update – it worked great for me.
If you think about it, let me know.

"Gent" wrote:

My AV is Trend Micro Internet Security 2007 8.550.1001/ 4.891.000 I tried disabling that with no luck.

"MowGreen [MVP]" wrote:

You did not list any AVs ... is NOD32 Version 2.7.39 installed ?

Re: 0x80072EE7 error

MowGreen [MVP 2003–2008]

=====
-343- FDNY
Never Forgotten
=====

Gent wrote:

Hi gang,

I have encountered a challenge when connecting to Windows Update. I get the 0x80072EE7 error.

I've tried the following:

- Checked the Hosts file for any static IP addresses – nothing
- I tried the guided help – no luck
- Internet connectivity is fine
- Firewall has been eliminated as a problem
- I had used a software accelerator (ashampoo); however I removed it and then reset the Internet connection settings using DRTCP
- Windows Update and Microsoft Update have been added to the Trusted Sites list
- I removed the proxy server entry from the WinHTTP proxy configuration
- Background Intelligent Transfer Service is running properly
- Event Log is running properly
- Cryptographic Service is fine
- cache is cleared
- The system has been restarted
- EasyCleaner and Xtech show nothing unusual in the startups – programs or services

Re: 0x80072EE7 error

As you can see, I have exhausted the MS suggestions. I really hope someone can help!– Hide quoted text –

– Show quoted text –

All:

I have tried everything suggested by Microsoft plus these posts. The last thing was to run fixwareout.exe Unfortunately, non of these fixes have worked ! I Still the Error 0x80072EE7 when attempting to get MS XP Updates! Any suggestions.

.