

Re: Warning Latest Vista Updates Faulty ?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windowsupdate/2008-01/msg00628.html>

- From: "TaurArian {MVP}" <Taurarian@xxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sat, 12 Jan 2008 10:28:07 +1100
-

No problems here, Vista Ultimate updated.

"gmax" <gmax@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
<news:12E4C823-9768-4FAE-9805-2273DB20028B@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

One or all of the Updates listed below caused my computer to crash. Had to use recovery disc to gain control. Once up and running the system was very unstable so removed the updates. Now running as before. Is anyone else having problems ? Come on Microsoft sort it out!

Update for Windows Vista (KB943302) Installation date: p9/p1/r008 18:22
Install this update to resolve a set of known application compatibility issues with Windows Vista. After you install this item, you may have to restart your computer.
<http://support.microsoft.com/kb/943302>

Update for Windows Vista (KB943899) Installation date: p9/p1/r008 18:22
This is a reliability update. This update resolves some performance and reliability issues in Windows Vista. By applying this update, you can achieve better performance and responsiveness in various scenarios. After you install this item, you may have to restart your computer.
<http://support.microsoft.com/kb/943899>

Update for Windows Vista (KB943411) Installation date: p9/p1/r008 18:22
Install this update to improve protection in Windows Sidebar. This update enables Windows Sidebar to block certain gadgets from running. After you install this item, you may have to restart your computer.
<http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=104989>