I keep trying to put in this table in my document but word only wants to put part of it on the page and leaves a big blank (looks like the table has been split). I have tried everything. It won't even let me put the table 'below' the break. Wherever I put the table, it puts the break in the middle. I have also deleted and re-created it manually without using paste. No dice.

I do have a lot of tables in this document. 30 in fact. Does Word have a limit on how many tables it will render? have I reached some sort of maximum.

I am using MS Word 2000
