I don't intend on buying the full version of Office. I have been using the trial version since we bought the computer one month ago. I now have the problem of not being able to access my documents in Word. I can see them, but I cannot email them to work or save to floppy so that I can use the documents somewhere else.

Argh.

Can anyone help me? MS can't (not unless i pay) and the store where i purchased it can't (so they say).

thanks in advance
