Yes, I spent three hours on Friday after work trying to resolve this issue with my computer. The articles assume that the software is working as it should. I have added macros to my computer using the "record" and then adding to tool bar for several years and it works just fine. As late as two weeks ago it worked. As of 8/18 after some sort of update it does not. I read, I fussed, I swore a little and then I posted a help me! The answer has to lie somewhere in the update that my computer autodownloaded last week.
