I am running Office Xp on Win2k. Word version is 10.2627.2625

I am unable to do a normal copy and paste into word when copying from an external application such as IE or notepad.

I have figured out that I can paste if I select Paste Special but I dont see why regular text from Notepad would not work with ^c & ^v.

I can paste fine if I copy from within word.

Also I can copy/paste fine into other apps such as IE to notepad or wordpad.

Is there some option or security setting which prevents me from copying into word from other programs?
